

Calling all South Asian youth!

(Who is South Asian? People with roots in Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Bhutan, India, Pakistan, the Maldives and Nepal)

BAY AREA SOLIDARITY SUMMER

B.A.S.S.

Are you a South Asian youth from 15 to 21 years old and tired of seeing injustices in the world?

Interested in making a difference locally and globally in YOUR community?

Want to meet other like-minded Desi youth?

Join us for Bay Area Solidarity Summer (BASS), a summer camp for youth of South Asian descent. During the five-day camp, you'll get trained in real-world organizing skills, learn about issues affecting South Asian communities, and plug into a national network of organizers. And have fun doing it!

BASS is run by a diverse group of volunteers of South Asian descent, including teachers, organizers, artists, programmers, lawyers, health professionals and students.

ISSUES

- ★ Organizing for Justice and the Environment
- ★ Sharing our Stories, Understanding our Histories
- ★ Building our Resiliency through Community Well-Being
- ★ Gender and Sexuality
- ★ Creative Arts and Actions

Visit solidaritysummer.org to apply online!

Questions? Email us at BASSoutreach@gmail.com

The Camp runs from Thursday August 2 afternoon to Monday August 6 morning in Berkeley, CA

Cost: Sliding Scale $100-300

(includes housing and food; need-based scholarships are available)

Participants will be expected to commit for the entire 5 day camp including overnight stays in Berkeley.

Bay Area Solidarity Summer is a project of Alliance of South Asians Taking Action (ASATA).