

Summer Leadership Camp for the Next Generation of South Asian / Desi Changemakers, Artists, Activists

for 15-21 year olds with roots in India, Pakistan, Nepal, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Bhutan, Maldives, and diaspora

Are you a young South Asian looking to make a difference?

BASS 2013
July 25-29
Berkeley, CA

Apply for Bay Area Solidarity Summer (BASS)!

BASS is a 5-day residential camp, July 25-29, 2013, for progressive South Asian youth, ages 15-21. The program costs $50 for 5 days of instruction, meals, and housing at a historic hotel near UC Berkeley (need-based scholarships offered).

- Get trained in leadership & organizing skills to create change
- Explore issues like race, gender, immigration, environment
- Participate in hands-on arts and music workshops
- Discover our community's 100+ year history in California
- Plug into a national network of organizers and alumni

Details and application online at SolidaritySummer.org

Application deadline: May 1, 2013

Alumni rave that BASS is "amazing," "inspiring," "life-changing," and "continues to provide motivation and support from peers and organizers"

Parents praise BASS for "grooming today's youth to be tomorrow's activists and leaders" and "giving them some hands-on experience and education into history, human rights issues, and the law"

BASS South Asian
youth leadership camp
July 25-29, 2013
SolidaritySummer.org

BASS South Asian
youth leadership camp
July 25-29, 2013
SolidaritySummer.org

BASS South Asian
youth leadership camp
July 25-29, 2013
SolidaritySummer.org

